

MRS. HOCKIN'S APPEAL FOR HUSBAND'S PARDON

Wife of Convicted Dynamiter Hopes for His Release From Prison.

Please to Be Submitted to President Wilson Through the Department of Justice.

Appeal for the pardon of Herbert S. Hockin, one of the six labor officials sentenced to long terms of imprisonment on charges of conspiracy in the famous dynamiting cases, is expected to come before President Wilson early next week.

This appeal, carried to the White House through the Department of Justice, is to climax the persistent effort for more than a year and a half by the young wife of Mr. Hockin, who has for several days been in Washington quietly working for the pardon of her husband.

When located at a hotel here she admitted she expects to get her appeal before the President early next week, and is confident of the restoration of her husband to freedom.

"I have presented my plan for justice to almost every official connected with the case," she said, "and they have almost all agreed that my appeal would be successful. I have been given every assurance that there would be no public exposure if my husband is released, because it has been shown, and is a matter of record in the office of the Attorney General that Mr. Hockin was of valuable service to the government in clearing up the case."

Burns Supports Her Plea.

Mrs. Hockin is supported in her plea by William J. Burns, who worked up the evidence in the dynamite cases.

Herbert S. Hockin was secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Structural Ironworkers, and it was he who first gave Mr. Burns the tip that led to the conviction of the McNamara brothers.

Six officials of the labor organization were sentenced to terms of from six months to five years, and the president to seven years. Hockin will, January 1, have served two years in Leavenworth prison.

His home at the time of his conviction was in Indianapolis, Ind., but when he was sentenced to Leavenworth Mrs.

Rockville, Md., September 26.—The John Walter Smith and David J. Lewis Democratic Club has organized here yesterday with a large membership and the following officers: President, Bowie F. Waters; secretary, Otto H. W. Talbot; treasurer, J. Dawson Williams; executive committee, Philip D. Laird, William M. Canby, Frederick A. Allmatt, Preston B. Ray, E. Dorsey King and Robert B. Peter.

The club will, it is announced, co-operate with the democratic state central committee for the county in looking after the registration, getting out the party vote and promoting generally the candidacy of Senator Smith and Representative Lewis for re-election.

Court Dismisses Petition.

Judges Urner and Worthington, in the circuit court at Frederick, have dismissed the petition of the state roads commission asking that owners of engines with cleated wheels be prohibited from running such engines on the state roads of Frederick county. The court held that unless a substantial harmful effect resulted to prohibit the use of such engines would be inequitable. A number of arrests for running engines with cleated wheels on the state roads of this county have recently been made, and are scheduled for trial at the November term of court.

Fair Premiums Scaled.

At a meeting of the directors of the Montgomery County Agricultural Society here yesterday afternoon, Treasurer John J. Higgins reported that the receipts from the fair recently held were insufficient to pay the expenses of the society for the year, and to meet the deficit, it was decided to pay only 75 per cent of the premium money awarded at the fair.

Capt. Brooke No Longer in Service of District.

Leaves Post of Assistant Engineer Commissioner for Duty in the Philippines.

With the closing of the District building at noon today for the last Saturday half-holiday of the season, the municipality lost the services of Commissioner since June 15, 1910. He will leave Monday for San Francisco and expects to sail October 5 for the Philippines, where he has been ordered for duty by the War Department.

Citizens Tender Testimonial.

A delegation from the Rhode Island Avenue Suburban Citizens' Association, composed of Bristow Adams, president; C. S. Rockwood, vice president; W. G. Llewellyn, C. L. M. Tobin, C. S. Symon and A. S. Henderson, representing the association, tendered a testimonial of appreciation of the services of the commissioner. The testimonial was a small book with engravings of oak leaves and laurels signifying strength and achievement.

Finds Baby at Front Door.

Miss Crowley of 1326 Riggs Street Turns Infant Over to Police.

Cries emerging from a bundle in the vestibule of Miss Crowley, 1326 Riggs street northwest, when she went to the front door last night shortly before 10 o'clock, attracted her attention and an examination of the package disclosed it contained a six-month-old male infant.

The bundle containing the infant was taken into the house by Miss Crowley, who notified the police of her find. The infant was later sent to the Foundling Hospital. The child was well dressed and well supplied with clothing, while in the bundle was also a bottle of milk.

The police learned that about an hour previous to the finding of the infant a woman had taken the same child and bundle to the Foundling Hospital and wanted to leave it. She was informed there that it would be necessary for the board of children's guardians to commit the child to the institution. It is believed the mother or person who then had the child strolled around for some time and decided finally to abandon it.

An effort is being made by the police to locate the mother or person who left the child in the vestibule of the Riggs street house.

JEFF DIDN'T EVEN GIVE THEM A TUMBLE

GEE, I GUESS JEFF WON'T BE JEALOUS WHEN HE SEES ME IN THESE NEW FRENCH GLASSES. HERE HE COMES NOW. WATCH HIM FALL DEAD WITH ENVY.

HELLO, MUTT, I FORGOT MY UMBRELLA.

I SEE YOU HAVE A NEW NECK-TIE.

WELL, I HAVE TO BE GOIN' SO LONG!

© 1914 BY STARCO.

ALEXANDRIA AFFAIRS

Holy Name Band to Take Part in Baltimore Parade.

FROM ST. MARY'S PARISH

Demonstration Under the Auspices of Catholic Societies—General and Personal Items.

Special Correspondence of The Star.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., September 26.—The men of St. Mary's parish, this city, are completing plans to take part in the parade which will be held in Baltimore Thursday in conjunction with the Federation of Catholic Societies of that city.

The members of the Holy Name Band will take part in the parade. The local division will be marshaled by William Desmond.

It is expected that many besides the participants will attend from Alexandria.

Alexandria Choir Officers.

A choir of twenty-five young men from the M. E. Church, this city, furnished the music at the sixteenth annual meeting of the Epworth League of Washington and vicinity, held last night at the Epworth Church, Washington. They were under the direction of H. K. Field.

The banner for having the largest percentage of members present was awarded to the league of this city. The officers were installed by Rev. E. V. Register of Alexandria, presiding at the Washington district of the M. E. Church South.

Recent Deaths.

Mrs. Emma M. Germond, widow of Ernest L. Germond, fifty-six years old, died last night at the Alexandria Hospital. Mrs. Germond had been ill several months, and was taken to the hospital a few weeks ago. She was a daughter of the late G. H. Ramey and lived at the Deniet apartments, 1113 H Street.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. J. Morton, the rector, and Rev. Dr. S. A. Wallis of the Episcopal Theological Seminary. Burial was made in Ivy Hill cemetery. The pallbearers were Capt. R. F. Knox, Edgar Ward, John M. Johnson and G. William Ramsay, P. F. Gorman and W. A. Smoot.

A large delegation of former Confederate soldiers, including members of R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans, attended the funeral.

Tobias D. Dillett, thirty-four years old, died today at his home, 122 South Fairfax street. He was a native of Ireland and had been in this city for many years. He was a member of the St. Patrick's church and was a member of the St. Patrick's club.

The body will be forwarded tomorrow morning to Bridgeton, N. J., for burial.

General and Personal.

Tables were turned in the police court today when David Marshall, colored, was arraigned to answer a charge of assaulting William Lightfoot, colored. The court fined Lightfoot $5 for drunkenness and disorderly conduct and acquitted Marshall.

Owing to the illness of Rev. C. E. Hannigan, rector of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, there will be no services tomorrow evening at the Young Men's Social League.

Beginning tomorrow the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church South will hold services at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, and the regular evening services in the church will be held at 7:45 o'clock.

A verdict for the defendants was given in the corporation court today in the case of the Imperial Curtain Company against J. M. Duncan and others.

The newly appointed health committee of the city council will hold a meeting Monday night and organize by the election of a chairman.

A meeting of the Old Dominion Boat Club will be held Monday night in the chambers of the chamber of commerce.

J. Fred Birrell announces that he will be a candidate for reelection to the state legislature, representing this city and county, subject to the primary next June.

PEACE TREATIES RATIFIED.

Senate Approves Pacts With France, Great Britain and Spain.

Peace commission treaties with Great Britain, France and Spain were ratified by the Senate yesterday, making the new peace treaties with these countries a reality.

The treaties were negotiated by the State Department and have been approved by this government. A similar treaty with China was favorably reported by the committee on foreign relations, but action was deferred by request of several senators who wish to discuss it thoroughly in view of the situation in the far east involving Germany and Japan at Kiaochow.

No opposition developed to the agreement with Great Britain, France and Spain. The treaties provide for resort to arms in the event of a dispute which cannot be settled by ordinary resources of diplomacy. The theory is that the treaties will serve to ally bitterness which might precipitate war.

The Chinese treaty will be called up again next week.

Every student should be fitted with WATERMAN'S IDEAL FOUNTAIN PEN. $2.50 to $5.00. Sold at the best stores.

Advertisement.

HEARD AND SEEN HERE AND THERE.

By Earl Godwin.

When the British customs official suspects a person you may be sure that the suspicion is as firmly seated in that Briton as the foundations of the British empire. You may be sure that the suspicion which alights upon the suspected one at Plymouth will continue all through Merrie England, along the route of the Great Northern, upon the docks around the lakes and lochs and through the heather and gorse until the tour ends somewhere in the Hebrides, where they make the tweed that smells of peat.

Those travelers who are suspected of being Germans or German sympathizers in England are thoroughly suspected, you may rest assured of that. These remarks are induced by the experience of Charles H. O'Rourke, who is as good an Irishman as ever set foot in New Orleans. The O'Rourke is one of the numerous cousins of "Cousin Bob" O'Rourke, representative from Louisiana, and he ran afoul of the British suspicion all through Great Britain, despite the fact that he has a name of Hibernian origin, which no one could fail to recognize, and a fine Hibernian face that none but a British custom official would fail to pass on its own merits.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

The trouble arose when Charles O'Rourke landed at Plymouth and presented certain necessary passports and credentials, one of which has the name Martin Behrman carved up in Teutonic splendor in one corner. I cannot tell you what the paper was, except that it was an essential instrument, but if O'Rourke had been lugging around a German cheese or a Berlin accent, the trouble would have been a trifle less.

Additional Church News

"Christ Is the Field of Human Need" will be the general subject of a special series of Sunday evening sermons which Rev. Dr. W. R. Wedderburn plans to preach in Foundry M. E. Church. "The Unshakable Things" is the special topic which the pastor has chosen for the sermon of tomorrow evening.

Speaking on the subject "The Signs of the Times: on the Battle of Armageddon," John E. Briggs, pastor of the Fifth Baptist Church, plans to review there tomorrow evening the European war in the light of Scripture and history.

In Concordia Church Monday evening a mass meeting is to be held in the interest of the war sufferers and the collection will be devoted to the widows and orphans of Germans who have died in the war. A special program has been arranged.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist Church opened its season Sunday night with an enthusiastic and interesting meeting. The attendance was large and a number of testimonies were given. Mr. Elgin Smith led the meeting. Mr. William A. Dayton, the society's new president, it is said, has already spurred the members on to new work and greater efficiency in Christian Endeavor effort.

Information received from the registration committee of the Co-operative Epworth League institute of the M. E. Church and the M. E. Church South indicates that the various chapters of Washington and vicinity will send between 1,000 and 1,200 delegates to the institute.

Final plans will be made at a meeting of the board of control which will be held Wednesday evening at Foundry M. E. Church, instead of Wesley Chapel, as in the past.

In arranging the programs for the various department conferences at the institute the officers in charge have drawn almost exclusively on local material, the only speakers from other cities being Dr. Ferris of Mount Vernon Church, Baltimore, and Mr. C. Guver Kelly, Epworth League second vice president, who resides in Baltimore.

With Dr. A. C. Christie, president of the Washington District Epworth League, and Rev. G. Ellis Williams of Falls Church, Va., as the principal speakers, Anacostia Chapter of the league opened its season of 1914-15 Sunday evening.

According to President Ralph Williams, who is also musical director for the large Anacostia chorus, the chapter now has 200 senior members and the junior league numbers about 240.

One of the most interesting features of the event was a visit from the officers and members of Trinity and Eldebrooke chapters to Anacostia Chapter, under leadership of their respective presidents, Charles K. Hoover and C. Wendel Shoemaker.

About 500 persons were present and among them the following District Epworth League officers: Dr. Christie, president; Messrs. Robert D. Burbank, Samuel D. Boss and Francis C. Farr, first, second and fourth vice presidents; Mr. William E. Truman, recording secretary; Mr. Ashby Jump, corresponding secretary, and Miss Maud C. Fowler, junior league superintendent.

Rev. G. Leroy White, pastor of Anacostia Church, outlined the work which the league expects to accomplish during the winter laying, especially emphasis on the work which is being done.

Now that the state of Maine has elected a variety of delegates to the republicans and has so tangled the situation that all political parties can claim victory, Frank Lord will leave Maine-clad country and circulate in some other seething political scrap. Frank Lord is the democratic candidate for city clerk in the field, and also president of the Press Club of this city. He is considerable of a Beau Brummage, a little heavy in the middle, and a good deal of a valet.

Frank Lord popped out from his room and in a mild voice that betrayed traces of deep sarcasm, "he is merely taking them to press and clean. He is my man, you know."

Whereupon Mr. Brown arose, apologized to the man, slipped him a little green paper currency, and went away grumbling at the soft days in which publicity campaign managers have arrived—and against valets in general.

Upset him and then sat on him. Can't tell what city it was because nearly every well-conducted metropolis has a Marlborough. Mr. Brown is a man-of-fact person, and when he saw a strange man slip into Frank Lord's room and emerge therefrom with a valet, he was naturally suspicious.

He immediately set upon the intruder from the rear, upset him and then sat on him, yelling for help and pummeling the poor man at the same time.

Frank Lord popped out from his room and in a mild voice that betrayed traces of deep sarcasm, "he is merely taking them to press and clean. He is my man, you know."

Whereupon Mr. Brown arose, apologized to the man, slipped him a little green paper currency, and went away grumbling at the soft days in which publicity campaign managers have arrived—and against valets in general.

Upset him and then sat on him. Can't tell what city it was because nearly every well-conducted metropolis has a Marlborough. Mr. Brown is a man-of-fact person, and when he saw a strange man slip into Frank Lord's room and emerge therefrom with a valet, he was naturally suspicious.

He immediately set upon the intruder from the rear, upset him and then sat on him, yelling for help and pummeling the poor man at the same time.

Frank Lord popped out from his room and in a mild voice that betrayed traces of deep sarcasm, "he is merely taking them to press and clean. He is my man, you know."

Whereupon Mr. Brown arose, apologized to the man, slipped him a little green paper currency, and went away grumbling at the soft days in which publicity campaign managers have arrived—and against valets in general.

Upset him and then sat on him. Can't tell what city it was because nearly every well-conducted metropolis has a Marlborough. Mr. Brown is a man-of-fact person, and when he saw a strange man slip into Frank Lord's room and emerge therefrom with a valet, he was naturally suspicious.

He immediately set upon the intruder from the rear, upset him and then sat on him, yelling for help and pummeling the poor man at the same time.

By "Bud" Fisher

The Epworth League at Hamline M. E. Church is to have for its speaker tomorrow evening Mr. W. G. Thomas, who will address the league on the topic "Industrial Slavery in the Light of Two Standards."

Hamline Chapter gathered its members for an old-fashioned "corn roast" last evening. Mr. Harry Havens, president of Hamline, reports that his chapter will send about forty delegates to the Epworth League institute October 5, 6 and 7.

At Foundry M. E. Church the Epworth League will hold its first regular devotional meeting of the season with Mr. H. L. Russell as the speaker. At the meeting Sunday, which was the league opening, the president, Irvine L. Miller, and the first vice president, C. P. Lewis, addressed the members, outlining the plans for the coming season. Members of Foundry Chapter are busy arranging for the Epworth League institute which will be held in their church.

The pupils of Emmanuel Episcopal Church Sunday School of Anacostia gave an entertainment Thursday night in the parish hall of the church, on Y street near 13th street southeast, under the direction of Mrs. Edward Frisbie and Miss Edna Frisbie. The "Garden of Japan." Notwithstanding the inclement weather the hall was well filled and the work of the children was applauded.

The play was in two parts and the scenes were set in Japan. The scenery depicting this garden was regarded as worthy of much commendation.

The program of part one follows: "Tango Tokio," ensemble; tea maidens, Misses Mary Estep, Edith Welsh, Mildred Kendrick, Margarette Sansbury, Florence Shaw, Annie Thorne, Beulah Shipley, Margaret Rose, Elsie Allen, Willie Thorne; recitation, Miss Mary Estep.

A severe hailstorm was experienced around Federal Mills, Annapolis county, Va., and a number of farmers lost their entire tobacco crop.

garet Lindsay; Jack o' Lanterns, Masters Thornton Fisher, Elmer Taylor, Charles Hagan, Walter Tilghman, Misses Helen King, Dorothy Hopkins, Grace Butler, Marie Smith, Marie Entwistle; recitation, Master Dorsey Kelly; herald, Master Wiley Gaffield; Prince Pushimi, Zane Kelly; guards, Robert Schroder, Norman Creamer, Truman Wallace, Edwin Conick, William Witzell, Dorsey Kelly, Harry Robey, Master Wallace Raymond Glicker; solo, "The Jap Doll," Miss Dorothy Latimer; recitation, Miss Beatrice Swain; "At the Gay Sea Shore," Miss Elizabeth Clugg and Master Mason Wallace, assisted by Violet Shaffer, Naomi Conick, Eric Gaffield, Margie Lee, George Witzell, William Latimer, Tom Putnam, Catherine Cox, Alice Lee; recitation, Miss Florence Conner; "A Magnolia Maid," Miss Dorothy Hopkins; recitation, Miss Naomi Conick; closing of first part, song, "Love Is the Theme of My Dreams" by the prince and chorus.

The second part included the return of the prince with an ensemble by the chorus: "The Heart of a Red, Red Rose," Miss Marion Frisbie and Master Charles Hagan; recitation, Master Florence Sansbury; recitation, Master Thomas Taylor; "The Heart of a Red, Red Rose," Miss Marion Frisbie and Master Charles Hagan; recitation, Master Florence Sansbury; recitation, Master Thomas Taylor; "The Heart of a Red, Red Rose," Miss Marion Frisbie and Master Charles Hagan; recitation, Master Florence Sansbury; recitation, Master Thomas Taylor.

The program of part one follows: "Tango Tokio," ensemble; tea maidens, Misses Mary Estep, Edith Welsh, Mildred Kendrick, Margarette Sansbury, Florence Shaw, Annie Thorne, Beulah Shipley, Margaret Rose, Elsie Allen, Willie Thorne; recitation, Miss Mary Estep.

A severe hailstorm was experienced around Federal Mills, Annapolis county, Va., and a number of farmers lost their entire tobacco crop.

garet Lindsay; Jack o' Lanterns, Masters Thornton Fisher, Elmer Taylor, Charles Hagan, Walter Tilghman, Misses Helen King, Dorothy Hopkins, Grace Butler, Marie Smith, Marie Entwistle; recitation, Master Dorsey Kelly; herald, Master Wiley Gaffield; Prince Pushimi, Zane Kelly; guards, Robert Schroder, Norman Creamer, Truman Wallace, Edwin Conick, William Witzell, Dorsey Kelly, Harry Robey, Master Wallace Raymond Glicker; solo, "The Jap Doll," Miss Dorothy Latimer; recitation, Miss Beatrice Swain; "At the Gay Sea Shore," Miss Elizabeth Clugg and Master Mason Wallace, assisted by Violet Shaffer, Naomi Conick, Eric Gaffield, Margie Lee, George Witzell, William Latimer, Tom Putnam, Catherine Cox, Alice Lee; recitation, Miss Florence Conner; "A Magnolia Maid," Miss Dorothy Hopkins; recitation, Miss Naomi Conick; closing of first part, song, "Love Is the Theme of My Dreams" by the prince and chorus.

The second part included the return of the prince with an ensemble by the chorus: "The Heart of a Red, Red Rose," Miss Marion Frisbie and Master Charles Hagan; recitation, Master Florence Sansbury; recitation, Master Thomas Taylor; "The Heart of a Red, Red Rose," Miss Marion Frisbie and Master Charles Hagan; recitation, Master Florence Sansbury; recitation, Master Thomas Taylor.

The program of part one follows: "Tango Tokio," ensemble; tea maidens, Misses Mary Estep, Edith Welsh, Mildred Kendrick, Margarette Sansbury, Florence Shaw, Annie Thorne, Beulah Shipley, Margaret Rose, Elsie Allen, Willie Thorne; recitation, Miss Mary Estep.

A severe hailstorm was experienced around Federal Mills, Annapolis county, Va., and a number of farmers lost their entire tobacco crop.

garet Lindsay; Jack o' Lanterns, Masters Thornton Fisher, Elmer Taylor, Charles Hagan, Walter Tilghman, Misses Helen King, Dorothy Hopkins, Grace Butler, Marie Smith, Marie Entwistle; recitation, Master Dorsey Kelly; herald, Master Wiley Gaffield; Prince Pushimi, Zane Kelly; guards, Robert Schroder, Norman Creamer, Truman Wallace, Edwin Conick, William Witzell, Dorsey Kelly, Harry Robey, Master Wallace Raymond Glicker; solo, "The Jap Doll," Miss Dorothy Latimer; recitation, Miss Beatrice Swain; "At the Gay Sea Shore," Miss Elizabeth Clugg and Master Mason Wallace, assisted by Violet Shaffer, Naomi Conick, Eric Gaffield, Margie Lee, George Witzell, William Latimer, Tom Putnam, Catherine Cox, Alice Lee; recitation, Miss Florence Conner; "A Magnolia Maid," Miss Dorothy Hopkins; recitation, Miss Naomi Conick; closing of first part, song, "Love Is the Theme of My Dreams" by the prince and chorus.

The second part included the return of the prince with an ensemble by the chorus: "The Heart of a Red, Red Rose," Miss Marion Frisbie and Master Charles Hagan; recitation, Master Florence Sansbury; recitation, Master Thomas Taylor; "The Heart of a Red, Red Rose," Miss Marion Frisbie and Master Charles Hagan; recitation, Master Florence Sansbury; recitation, Master Thomas Taylor.

The program of part one follows: "Tango Tokio," ensemble; tea maidens, Misses Mary Estep, Edith Welsh, Mildred Kendrick, Margarette Sansbury, Florence Shaw, Annie Thorne, Beulah Shipley, Margaret Rose, Elsie Allen, Willie Thorne; recitation, Miss Mary Estep.

A severe hailstorm was experienced around Federal Mills, Annapolis county, Va., and a number of farmers lost their entire tobacco crop.

garet Lindsay; Jack o' Lanterns, Masters Thornton Fisher, Elmer Taylor, Charles Hagan, Walter Tilghman, Misses Helen King, Dorothy Hopkins, Grace Butler, Marie Smith, Marie Entwistle; recitation, Master Dorsey Kelly; herald, Master Wiley Gaffield; Prince Pushimi, Zane Kelly; guards, Robert Schroder, Norman Creamer, Truman Wallace, Edwin Conick, William Witzell, Dorsey Kelly, Harry Robey, Master Wallace Raymond Glicker; solo, "The Jap Doll," Miss Dorothy Latimer; recitation, Miss Beatrice Swain; "At the Gay Sea Shore," Miss Elizabeth Clugg and Master Mason Wallace, assisted by Violet Shaffer, Naomi Conick, Eric Gaffield, Margie Lee, George Witzell, William Latimer, Tom Putnam, Catherine Cox, Alice Lee; recitation, Miss Florence Conner; "A Magnolia Maid," Miss Dorothy Hopkins; recitation, Miss Naomi Conick; closing of first part, song, "Love Is the Theme of My Dreams" by the prince and chorus.

The second part included the return of the prince with an ensemble by the chorus: "The Heart of a Red, Red Rose," Miss Marion Frisbie and Master Charles Hagan; recitation, Master Florence Sansbury; recitation